ABOUT ME

I am a passionate front-end developer with a strong foundation in React.js, HTML, and CSS, complemented by advanced proficiency in Java. My problem-solving skills and leadership abilities have been honed through my role as the secretary of my tech club, where I successfully led and organized various initiatives. Currently, I am expanding my expertise into backend development with Spring Boot to build full-stack applications. Additionally, I have knowledge of C, C++, and Python, enabling me to approach software development with a well-rounded perspective.
